A wobbly camera destabilizes the on the rails shooting almost pushing it into nauseating levels.. This game.Is a wart on the face of gaming. The game is terrible for what it is, does, and even stands for. They lure you in with the thought of "Infiltrate a base" and blah blah blah. This game, its screen shots are lies. This game is a peek a boo game. Meaning you literally jump out of cover, shoot, go back into cover and pray to God you hit something with your guns. The sounds of the guns are laughable. Cover? Oh im sorry. Did you mean the thing that you go behind to save your life and make sure the enemy doesnt hit you? Sorry, the cover is only available at certain parts and doesnt help much if you have guys on other places and levels of height. You might think "Oh height? Isnt that what happens in real life?" Yeah, but the people dont DUCK 4 inches down and say "I'm safe." The game has QTE events that are just.Why? WHY?! I played 20 minutes of this game and I requested for a refund. Its a terrible game. The guns are so stupid looking, sounds stupid and even one level says "Stay quiet" before you get shot at by a company of enemies. Remeber, this is an on rail shooter, meaning you cant get caught unless you do something stupid like shoot randomly or the game just says "Be quiet.NOT." Stay away at all cost! The game looks great in the screenshots but upclose? ITS A MESS! STAY AWAY!. I first saw this game at Family Video & I thought it would be an Awesome FPS Game set in the Modern Military Days. But it is a Horrible Boring On Rails Shooter. The Company who made this Teyon is no stranger to Terrible Games. The First On Rails FPS Game they made was Heavy Fire Afghanistan. The Game is very shallow & just boring as Hell. Teyon also made Rambo The Video Game which is also an ON RAILS FPS!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Though the game looks cool it is just a Terrible On Rails Shooter & A Poor Excuse For A Video Game. This game is not even worth the price of $3.99. Also the game is to difficult.. narrative.well lets call it coldwar 2.0 or as an recruitment helper. game for arcade cabinet in US Marine's drafting place. as Rail shooter from military background.IT's ok. Not quite as good as BLUE ESTATE, nowhere near. But given fact of MILITARY subgenre of RAIL SHOOTER thin scene.it will do. Well until it starts to freeze whole PC (no other game did so since this pc build,AAA) But true is, I did not bother to troubleshoot.Never had lightgun hooked up, so no point there. (wondering if it will be much of nightmare to make it work on this title.Will post update if so.). Why play the game some more? I don't need to, it's just a rail shooter. They're all the same, and they're all boring.. Just as terrible as the first one. Avoid.. I don't get why this game has even lower steam ratings than the first game. Because basically it's the same game, just with other levels. If you start the game you notice that it has some hard stuttering, but if you read in the steam forums you can find a quick fix for that, so that's not a huge deal.. This game is the pinical of on rails shooter genre.. My time on this game is skewed due to leaving it open for the cards and forgetting that the launcher counts as "time played." With that said, this game is pretty poor. It is similar in quality to the Rambo on-rails shooter video game that came out some time ago. Dialogue is clunky, the story isn't engaging, aiming and the "feel" of the guns is off. It probably doesn't help that I played a much better on-rails shooter (Blue Estate), but this game is a harsh step backwards. The only saving gracy(?) is that it is cheap.. My eyes are bleeding
